

Betty Happy As Classmates Face Future

She Has Date With Death on Commencement

ATLANTA—(AP)—Out into the world last night went 185 beaming, hopeful high school graduates, leaving a lovely classmate, Betty Thompson, to face death.

And cancer-stricken, 18-year-old Betty wistfully watched them go. She held proudly the loving cup they voted her as the class' outstanding citizen.

The graduates went out dedicated for a brief, precious moment to peace and "one world."

There was ahead for Betty only uncertain hopes of a brief marriage to Sallor Tom Amburn and then—perhaps this fall—death.

But Betty lived last night in the present, smiling gently at her classmates as they filed through an arch of swords onto the stage of the Municipal auditorium.

The graduation exercises were held in the auditorium to accommodate about 2,000 friends and relatives of the Russell high school senior class.

Betty sat through half of the exercise on a sofa behind the grand piano on the stage. She listened soberly as honor student Martha Ann Hemperly declaimed on "The Challenge to Abundant Living."

Miss Hemperly quoted the sages of the past on the need for a full life based on inner resources and observed that none of her classmates "is facing the future with gloom."

Then came time to announce class awards and to hand out diplomas. Betty's brother, David, lifted the pale, brown-eyed brunette from the sofa to her place with the rest of the class.

During the alma mater song, Betty rose and sang with the rest, holding carefully to a friend's arm and balancing easily on one leg.

Betty already had lost one leg to the cancer which now has spread to her lungs.

Like any proud school girl she quickly unrolled her diploma and read the inscription aloud to herself.

On her left hand she wore two rings, both new. One was Tom's engagement ring, the other a dinner ring given her as a graduation present by friends.

Tom had promised to be on hand for her graduation, but was confined to the naval hospital at Norfolk with a severe case of nerves.

They had been planning marriage when Tom went home to talk it over with his parents. The navy canceled his furlough for leaving the place he had given as his emergency address.

After the exercises were over, and before the graduates trooped off with proud parents, classmate after classmate came up to Betty to congratulate her on her cup.

She smiled and said "Thank you" to each, and to each who promised to come calling, she said, "Please do."

Betty could only nod to the question, "Happy?"

Judy Olin, 14, Kasbeer, who apparently suffered only shock after a Bureau county Red Cross car in which she was riding hit a Burlington switch engine south of Dixon Monday, was found after X-rays yesterday to have a fractured neck.

She and the other four occupants of the car, her mother, Mrs. Anna Olin, Kasbeer, Mrs. Mary Gealow, Kasbeer, Mrs. Forrest Booth, Princeton, and her sister, Shirley Olin, Kasbeer, are all reported critical today at KSB hospital Dixon.

U. S. Feared in India-Bishop

JACKSONVILLE, (AP)—Methodist bishop from India said yesterday that India fears the United States is trying to dominate the world.

Bishop Clement D. Rockey, head of the Bengal conference in India, said that that was one of the reasons he feels India fears the U. S.

Speaking before the Illinois Conference of the Methodist church on "Checkmating Communism in India," Bishop Rockey said that 10 years ago no other country appealed to Indians as much as the U. S.

Beef Shortage Threatened by Next Week

Major Packers Slash Output; Receipts Down

Chicago OPS Chief Charges Attempt to Create Shortage

CHICAGO — (AP) — The threat of an early beef shortage in butcher shops—industry spokesmen said possibly by next week—increased today.

Slaughtering of beef cattle by major packers was sharply reduced for the third day in a row. The number of cattle sent to market in the nation's major stockyards also was far below normal for the third day running.

Michael Howlett, head of the Chicago regional Office of Price Stabilization, declared there is "an obvious attempt to create an artificial shortage."

Without identifying the person or interests he blamed, Howlett said:

"They are trying to force congress to eliminate controls on meat. They are putting their own selfish interests ahead of the welfare of the country."

No Long-Range Shortage

Howlett said there is "nothing to indicate a long-range shortage." Only 24,200 head of cattle arrived at the nation's 12 principal markets today. Last Wednesday was the Memorial day holiday but two weeks ago 41,500 head arrived.

It was the same situation on Monday and Tuesday. The first three days this week, cattle receipts in the big markets totaled only 96,700. This was under the Monday and Tuesday receipts last week of 107,000. The same three day period of a year ago saw receipts of 148,000.

Packers at Chicago—the nation's biggest stockyards—were as high or higher than yesterday. And packers bought only a handful of cattle yesterday, claiming they couldn't pay the high prices asked and comply with price ceilings set by the Office of Price Stabilization.

Beef dressing has virtually stopped in many plants across the nation. Workers have been laid off.

Forces Prices Up

Two factors have brought the conditions about. The low receipts have forced prices up. The packers say they can't but even the cattle that is available because of ceilings that fix the maximum amount they can pay over a monthly accounting period.

Swift & Company, the country's largest packer, said it can't risk paying above ceiling prices now on the expectation that it will be able to buy cheap beef later in the month and bring its average within the permissible limit.

Slaughtering curtailments were announced by all of the nation's four largest packers—Swift, Armour, Wilson and Cudahy—and by many smaller companies. Many workers were laid off.

Neighborhood Druggist Sues to Halt Price Battle in New York

NEW YORK—(AP)—A small neighborhood druggist has jumped into New York City's price war with a legal challenge against the world's biggest department store, Macy's.

The druggist, Adolph Rothbaum of Woodhaven, Queens, is seeking a temporary injunction restraining Macy's from underselling price-fixed articles produced and sold within New York state.

Rothbaum filed his suit in Queens state supreme court yesterday as department stores here completed their sixth day of price warring.

A comparative list set in the more popular items were exhausted. But the reductions extended to other cities across the nation including such scattered centers as Denver, Colo.; Jackson, Miss.; Albuquerque, N. M.; Harrisburg, Pa.; Akron, Ohio; Oklahoma City, and Atlanta, Ga.

Alaska Joins War

Even a variety store in far off Sitka, Alaska, posted reductions of 10 to 15 per cent on some fair-trade items.

Garbage Dumpers Despoil Dixon Countryside

Here are two Dixon township trucks, shown as they make their rounds to collect garbage and litter thoughtlessly thrown on the roadsides in the Dixon area by careless motorists. It costs Dixon township taxpayers hundreds of dollars every time this litter is picked up. This roadside litter consists of bottles, cans, garbage and waste materials. On the left, township workmen are shown scooping up this filthy matter, and on the right is a truck filled with but a few hours' work. The Telegraph is co-operating with Supervisor A. C. Higby and township Highway Commissioner Harry LaBar to aid in stopping this thoughtless dumping. The Telegraph will give a reward of $25 to anyone who gives information which will lead to the conviction of these despoilers.

Short Circuit In Generator Brings Firemen

A dancing ball of fire created by a short circuit shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday brought firemen and policemen racing to the Dixon hydro station of the Public Service Co.

The short circuit occurred when a potential transformer connected to one of the generators burned out at the station, located at the Dixon dam, and caused lights in several sections of town to be momentarily extinguished.

Firemen answering the alarm found dense smoke, but no danger of destruction from fire at the hydro station.

LeGrand Cannon, spokesman for the Public Service Co., said no loss of power will result from the failure of the transformer. Of the five generators at the plant, one is normally kept in reserve, and will be used until the disabled generator is repaired, he said.

10-Year-Old Bruised as Car Hits Bike

A 10-year-old Dixon boy received bruises and scratches when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car at N. Dixon avenue and Bradshaw street Tuesday.

Jimmy Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Palmer, 1009 N. Dixon avenue, was treated by a physician following the accident. The bicycle was struck by a car driven by Raymond Loran, Rt. 1, Dixon, according to the police report. The bicycle was wrecked, Mrs. Palmer said today.

B. I. Westover, 202 Patrick's court, told officers his car collided with a tricycle at Hennepin avenue and 10th street Tuesday. Children were playing in the street, Westover said, but there was no rider on the tricycle.

Mayor, Councilman Object to Improvement at Nachusa Hotel

Mayor Slothower and Commissioner George Lindquist last night started what apparently is a move to force removal of the newly constructed steps in front of the Nachusa hotel.

The 25 by 5 foot steps extending north and south at the front of the hotel were termed a "public nuisance" and an "encroachment on city property." The steps occupy part of the sidewalk in front of the building.

The steps were built as a part of a large reconstruction program at the hotel to restore it to its place as a historic spot in the community. The objection stems from the fact that in rebuilding the steps, the width was increased to gain the proper grade. The so-called "encroachment" is not in an outwardly direction (to the east). The projection toward the street is the same as the old steps.

Should Notify Owner

A legal opinion written by City Atty. Gerald Jones was read by Mayor William V. Slothower though Jones was not present at the meeting. Jones said the city should notify the owner, Mrs. Mabel S. Shaw, of the encroachment and give her an opportunity to present arguments in favor of the steps before an injunction is sought to force their removal.

No action was taken by the council last night because Commissioner C. L. Ballard was not present. Mayor Slothower said he believed the full council should be present before action is taken.

Receives Complaints

Lindquist started the discussion on the Nachusa steps by saying he had received several telephone complaints from citizens.

According to the Jones' opinion the public sidewalk must be maintained in safe condition and the right of the public to use the sidewalk is paramount.

The council received a petition signed by 24 businessmen and women on Depot avenue asking that the street be blacktopped between Fifth street and the Chicago and North Western railway depot. Slothower said three or four months of city motor fuel tax funds will be used on the River street improvement and he can't be sure if enough money will be left to blacktop Depot avenue. He added, "There is a possibility the work can be done this year."

Lindquist submitted the resignation of Police Officer Frank Chapman effective June 4. The May report of Police Chief Frank Tyne shows that 38 arrests were made and $275.20 in fines collected.

Nine Die in Plane Crash

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Nine airmen were killed today in the crash of a huge C-97 stratofreighter en route from San Antonio to city limits.

The four-engine craft, capable of carrying 60 passengers, plunged to the ground from house-top level shortly after taking off from Kelly air force base at 10:19 a. m. (CST).

American Boys Name Notables 'Favorite Dads'

NEW YORK, (AP)—Members of the Boy's Clubs of America today announced selection of their "Favorite American Fathers" in seven fields.

Military—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Radio—Bob Hope.

Sports—Joe DiMaggio.

Government—Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

Television—Dan Seymour.

Judiciary—Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

Movies—Robert Young.

The selections—exclusive of the boys' own dads, of course—were announced by the clubs in connection with Father's day, June 17.

The announcement said the boys decided that "a dad who won't go fishing or play ball with his son isn't worth his weight in fatherhood."

"The boys," the clubs said, "were overwhelmingly of the sentiment that, for him to be a real dad, he must share activities with his boy. It's not nearly enough for pop to supply junior with material comforts."

Preparing Docket

Atty. Bracken will take over the chambers now occupied by Judge Dixon at the west end of the third floor of the courthouse. The present judge has been busy recently removing his law library from the judge's chamber and consolidating the court docket so he can explain to the new judge what cases are pending and what action has been taken on them previously.

Meanwhile, the possibility of a recount on the vote remains dim. Pires said yesterday he is not considering a recount and has said nothing about asking for one.

Against Control

MOLINE—(AP)—The Moline city council last night urged that rent control be ended in the city, by a vote of 12 to 2.

The resolution, now goes to Tighe E. Woods, federal housing expediter, for action before it is effective.

Allies Edge Nearer Red Stronghold

Confident Allied Troops 'Hammering At the Front Door'

TOKYO — (AP) — Allied tank patrols today hammered at the gates of Chonwon and Kumhwa, southern anchors of the Communist central Korean stronghold.

Censorship Hides News

Tight censorship blocked out the exact distance Allied troops were from the Reds' strategic Chonwon-Kumhwa-Pyongyang bastion.

Wednesday night the Eighth army announced U. N. forces rolled one to two miles nearer Chonwon from positions north of Yonchon.

Dispatches from the central front reported U. N. troops drove nearly a mile closer to Kumhwa, eastern gateway to the Communist supply and build-up zone. Allied infantrymen slogged through sporadic artillery and mortar fire, routing out Chinese from log-topped fox holes.

Bitter Fighting in East

Bitterest fighting was farther east. North Koreans sought a fierce delaying action against U. N. forces pushing out from Yanggu and Inje while Communist trucks carted off the remains of a sizeable ammunition dump.

Eunsun reported official estimates place 300,000 Reds on the battlefield. He said 120,000 North Koreans hold the eastern and western flanks, with 180,000 Chinese in the center defending their vital triangle.

Retired Admiral Named College Student of Year

PEORIA, (AP)—A retired rear admiral, 57-year-old Forrest A. Rhoades, has been named student of the year at Bradley university.

Rhoades, a veteran of 34 years with the navy, enrolled last year for a four-year course in jewelry store management.

David B. Owen, president of the university, presented the honor scroll to student Rhoades at an annual honor day ceremony yesterday.

The administrative staff committee selected Rhoades, Owen said, because he enrolled for further learning after he had "distinguished himself by achieving the height of his profession."

The admiral claims no city as his home, but says he graduated from high school at Fullerton, Calif.

Eighth Army Now Tougher, Cockier, Stronger Than Ever

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(AP)—The Eighth army is tougher and cockier than at any time since the Korean war began 11 months and 12 days ago.

In fact, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet's 14-nation army is so powerful today that a sizeable force of battle-scarred veterans has been pulled out of the frontlines and placed in reserve.

This is the first time the army has been wealthy enough in manpower to rest such a large force. And they are getting pretty cocky up there along the front because after turning back two Chinese and North Korean Communist offensives since April 22, the Eighth army has battled all the way back to the gates of Chonwon.

Back at Start

That's exactly where they were six weeks ago when the Communists' first spring offensive was touched off.

Since April 22, the Eighth army has retreated 25 miles, fought its way back and killed or wounded almost 200,000 Reds.

But the way it looks now is that the next move is up to the Chinese and North Koreans because the Eighth army sloggers are digging in again with only tank-led raid-

Leads by 55 In Canvass of Four Counties

Jo Daviess Tallies To Be Checked by Officials Thursday

Atty. Robert Bracken neared official victory today in the race for judge in the 15th judicial circuit.

With official canvass of the votes completed in four of the five counties in the circuit, Bracken is now 55 votes ahead of State's Attorney Morey Pires.

The final canvass in Jo Daviess county will be tomorrow morning in the circuit clerk's office at the courthouse in Galena. Little change is expected in the final canvass there.

Chances Slim

Pires as yet has not indicated whether he will contest the election results. His chances for victory now appear slim. If he does contest the election, he must assume the cost, according to Sterling D. Schrock, county clerk.

Bracken lost five votes in Lee county when the canvass was completed at the courthouse this morn-

PIRES-BRACKEN VOTE
County	P.	B.
Lee	2924	4329
Ogle	1852	1233
Corroll	778	599
Stephenson	1795	1208
Jo Daviess	903	738
(Unofficial)	8252	8807

ing, but picked up those five votes in the Ogle county canvass Tuesday afternoon and three additional votes in the Stephenson county canvass.

He had previously gained 10 votes when the Carroll county canvass was finished Tuesday morning.

8,307 to 8,252

Total vote for Bracken now stands at 8,307 while Pires has 8,252.

Judge Leon A. Zick, Oregon, picked up three votes in the Stephenson county canvass. His total for Stephenson county now is 2,101. Yesterday's count was 2,098.

Today it appeared that Zick had polled more votes than any of the other candidates in the judicial election. Zick polled 10,639 votes while the closest candidate was Justice Fulton of the Supreme court who had 10,490.

Bracken's apparent victory puts to rest hopes of the Warner-dominated Republican committee to hand-pick a circuit judge. Republicans joined with Democrats in putting over the candidacy of Bracken.

Confident of Bracken

All lawyers in the circuit feel that Bracken will be an excellent judge. He has earned their respect in the manner in which he has handled law cases since his graduation from Notre Dame university law school.

Bracken, if the victor of the election after the canvass in Jo Daviess county tomorrow, will take office as soon as the election is certified by Gov. Adlai Stevenson. He will succeed Judge George Dixon, who is retiring.

Pay Hiked

This term the judges will receive a raise in pay approved by this session of the Illinois legislature. After July 1 they will receive $12,500 a year. The previous salary figure was $10,000.

The salary of Justice Fulton has been raised to $20,000 a year. He formerly received $18,000.

Retirement pay for judges has also been raised, as it equals half of a judge's salary at the time of retirement. Thus if Judge Fulton retires after July 1, he will get $9,000 a year.

Judges' pensions are paid from a fund to which both judges and the state contribute.

Korean Peace Rumors False, Says Marshall

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall says rumors about a Korean peace are "strictly rumors."

The five-star general gave that answer to newsmen's questions last night on the Korean situation. At first Marshall declined to comment on the possibility the Korean war might end soon and a peace is about to be negotiated. Then he said, "All the rumors are strictly rumors."

The general came here for a commencement address at Washington university today.

Newsprint Takes $10 a Ton Jump

MONTREAL, (AP)—Newsprint of the International Paper Sales Company incorporated will go up

$10 a ton July 1, the firm announced last night. International is the fourth Canadian firm to announce the boost, which brings its price to $116 a ton in New York and $112 in Canada. Abitibi Power and Paper Company of Toronto was the first to announce the increase. It was followed by Consolidated Paper Corporation, Montreal, and Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Company, Ltd., Quebec.

Two More 'Little Hoover' Bills Die

SPRINGFIELD — (AP)—Two more Schaffer commission bills have been killed in the Illinois legislature.

The senate judiciary committee yesterday struck down house approved measures that would allow the governor to delegate duties on the state property tax board and the service recognition board to the lieutenant governor.

The committee endorsed two similar bills that also passed the house. These would let the lieutenant governor pinch hit for the governor on the state budgetary commission and the legislative reference bureau board.

All four bills were recommended by the Schaffer group, which studied ways of streamlining the government and making it more efficient.

Expect Guard Divisions To Be Called Up

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The army probably will beef up its combat strength within a year by adding two or three more National Guard divisions and may form some new regular army divisions and regimental combat teams.

The army's chief, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, expects two or three more of the state's divisions to be federalized.

But, he told reporters who met him on his return yesterday from a European inspection trip, the size of the army won't mount much beyond the 1,552,000-man goal aimed at for the end of this month and probably will be under 1,600,000.

The army's strength about a month ago was approximately 1,400,000. Thus the increase to the June 30 objective would mean 152,000 more men. These are volunteers and draftees, some of whom will go into regular army divisions now being brought up to strength and some into federalized National Guard divisions which were at about half their authorized 18,000-man strength when they came into federal service.

Present Strength
At present, the army is composed of 12 regular army divisions, six National Guard divisions and regimental combat teams (a sub-

'Shoot' Said The Boy, and He Was 'Shot'

SESSER—(AP)—Because of his business, Implement Dealer Virgil Robbins couldn't get away last week to have his valuable pointer dog vaccinated against rabies.

He asked a small boy to have it done and gave him a dollar for the vaccination fee.

The youngster took the dog to the city hall. He told Police Chief Wilford Day that Robbins wanted the dog "shot."

Day thought the boy was wrong, but when the lad showed him the dollar for the job, the chief guessed Robbins meant it. He said he'd shoot the dog but would take no money.

When the boy returned to Robbins store and told him what he had done, Robbins rushed to the city hall. He found that his dog, for which he had turned down a $300 offer, had been destroyed.

CIO Challenges Peru Ordinance

CHICAGO, (AP)—The CIO began court action yesterday to have a Peru, Ill., handbill ordinance declared unconstitutional.

The Peru ordinance bans the distribution within the city limits of handbills by persons not licensed to do so.

In its federal court suit, the CIO alleged that on May 8 a union organizer was arrested and fined $25 for handing out pamphlets to fellow unionists at the American Nickeloid Company plant without a license.

The suit contends freedom of speech, press and assembly is abridged by the ordinance. It asks an injunction restraining city officials from enforcing it.

Teenager Finds Reducing Easy With Rennel Home Recipe

Miss Betty Shelby of Sreator, Ill. writes: "I am just 16 years old and before taking Rennel Concentrate I was too heavy for my size. My grandmother told me about Rennel and to my surprise I lost 12 lbs. I did not diet to lose this weight and felt on top of the world and still do. I want to get my weight down a few more pounds to 110 and I know that Rennel will do this for me. I will never put weight on again as long as I can get Rennel."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's no trouble and costs little. Contains nothing harmful. Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into pint bottle and add unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. It's that simple. If reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic with the first bottle, return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how bloated disappears—how much better you feel. Now is the time to reduce. Ask your druggist for Rennel.

He Got a Little High-Literally

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—"I guess I got a little high on beer," Elliott Poor said.

No one disputed him. Here's why: Loud shouts of "taxi!" awakened sleepers at 1 a.m. yesterday. Some who traced the calls and believed their eyes called police.

Police came, looked, called a hook and ladder fire company. Patrolman Richard Hubert and Fireman Edward O'Donnell slowly climbed 125 feet to the top of the smokestack of the Southern Pacific General hospital.

There, finger by finger, they pried Poor—frozen by fright—from his high perch.

The kitchen has been labeled the most dangerous room in the house.

Driver-Training in Schools Pays Off in Traffic Safety

Laments about the nation's motor traffic fatalities usually wind up with a spirited call for more driver education. It's hopeful, therefore, to be able to report that genuine progress is being made toward that end.

The Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, which has played a big role in spurring driver education programs, recently summoned up the cheerful evidence. The findings deal with high school students, since most programs are in that field.

In the current school year nearly 750,000 students were enrolled in driver-training courses. That's more than double the 330,000 who were enrolled four years ago. A total of 8845 schools are giving courses, a marked advance from the 7108 which offered such instruction last year. Since 1948 nearly 6000 schools have added driver-training to their curricula.

This is good news for those who may have despaired of seeing any solid hope of improvement in the traffic situation. The association estimates that students trained in driving will have a three-to-one better chance of avoiding motor accidents than those who get no formal training.

But there are still some 11,500 schools with perhaps another 750,000 students that lack any kind of driver-training courses. So the room for expansion of these programs is ample.

What facts are there to support the view that driver-training really pays off? Naturally, since most of the programs are relatively new, comparative figures aren't numerous. But a few studies have been made.

In Delaware, the Motor Vehicle department analyzed the driving records of 1600 licensed motorists, half with training and half without. The survey showed that of the 800 trained drivers, only 100 had either been arrested for traffic violation, involved in an accident, or warned by police officers. Of the 800 untrained drivers, 769, or 96 per cent, had some kind of black mark against them.

A later study, covering 2200 drivers showed that 19.7 per cent of the 1100 trained ones had a violation, an accident or a warning, while 78.7 per cent of the 1100 untrained motorists fell into the same categories.

A Wisconsin survey disclosed that driver education reduced accidents per 1000 months of licensed driving by 58 per cent, and convictions for traffic violations by 59.4 per cent.

In Massachusetts, the number of driver education courses in 1941 was 48. By 1947 it had soared to 217. In that span, the number of accidents involving youths of 16 and 17 dropped from 1203 to 642.

Massachusetts is now undertaking a new 10-year study of the value of driver education. On the basis of just six months' study, the state reports that untrained drivers had nine times the reportable violations that trained motorists did, and 10 times as many as those who had received both classroom instruction and practice driving.

These surveys suggest strongly that driver-training courses are one real answer to the frightening toll of traffic deaths and injuries. Let's hope the day is not far off when no school is without such training.

Husbands - Remember
This Is Wife's Main Sport

"I let women talk about themselves, and they love it," is how 79-year-old Mr. Charles Mendel explains his success in wooing and winning a 35-year-old Parisian beauty.

Well, a lot of men follow Sir Charles' technique when they are wooing and winning a girl. The trouble is, most of them don't keep it up once they're married to her. The average husband usually has a "So what?" attitude toward most of the gossip and details of her day that his wife stores up to tell him. Or if he is better-mannered he listens with the forced politeness of a person listening to a dull joke for the third time.

He does this in spite of the fact that he expects his wife to be fascinated by the small talk that he brings home from the office and to react with keen interest to everything he finds interesting.

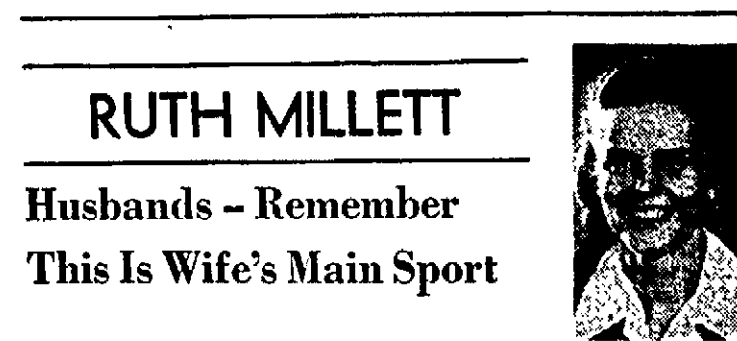

NOT SO BRIGHT

That isn't very bright of men, for it is the main reason why women waste so much time going to club meetings, carrying on endless telephone conversations, and it's why they are so anxious to go somewhere at night, instead of staying home.

They are just seeking a listening audience. They will have it even if they have to pay for it, by going to a beauty salon where they can talk the operator's arm off, shopping for household furnishings where they know they will have the salesman's listening ear, consulting anybody from a doctor to a decorator, just to find a sympathetic audience.

Sure women love to talk about themselves—every bit as much as men do.

Listen attentively and appreciatively to everything your wife says some evening (not from behind your newspaper or above the sound of the radio) and see if she doesn't get that old "Aren't-you-wonderful!" look in her eyes.

IN HOLLYWOOD
By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — Vic Damone and Joan Benny, Jack's daughter, have let the news leak out to pals that they will wed on Vic's first furlough. . . . The grapevine is lashing about with the sizzling rumor that Elizabeth Taylor's parents are headed for the divorce courts.

Somebody's got to spill the beans. Gary Cooper and Pat Neal had their first "official" date at Warners' special studio showing of "A Streetcar Named Desire." Clang, clang! . . . Producer Jerry Wald claims that he has Greta Garbo and Marion Brandt lined up as co-stars of a movie version of Thomas Wolfe's "The Web and the Rock."

Dorothy Lamour and hubby Bill Howard have hooked a 24-carat plum out of the MacArthur pie. They own the rights to the "Old General" whiskey label. . . . Most-requested record over the San Quentin prison speaker system last week: Jo Stafford's "Allentown Jail." . . . UT's big wheels are very hush-hush mulling over the idea of a remake of "My Man Godfrey" with Evelyn Keyes in the Carole Lombard role.

Trend of the times: Dick Erdman tells about the actor who took his TV fan son to a movie theater for the first time. Kid's comment: "Gosh, Pop, they get good reception here."

MGM's "Lone Star" is tailor-made, apparently, to put Clark Gable back in the he-man competition. Says Broderick Crawford: "Gable and I fight with fists, bottles, guns and knives every time we see each other. But since we're fighting over Ava Gardner, I guess it's worth it."

ON ICE
Canadian cover girl Trudy Williams has ended her romance with Steve Cochran. "He's too bossy," she told me. . . . Robert Walker, with not a black mark against him in Hollywood's Bad Boy Book since his session at Menninger clinic, continues to see a movietown psychoanalyst regularly as a follow-up to his treatment. . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor, wife of George Sanders, will be announced any day as Hugo Haas' co-star in "Thy Neighbor's Wife." Her first big flicker effort.

Movietown lensers are steamed up over the charge that they're photographing Lana Turner at unflattering angles. The boys claim she's as plump as the camera eye shows her to be.

Cute touch to Odette Myrtil's act at the Cafe Gala: "I'd like to introduce my accompanist—an awfully nice boy—a fine musician who comes from a very fine family. In fact, his mother is a great artist. I'd like you to meet my son, Roger Adams."

Rochelle Hudson, whose old pictures have made her a TV star, has hired herself an agent for video stunts. . . . Judy Holliday has won her battle to shuck the dumb blonde stamp. "The Marrying Kind," her next for Columbia under George Cukor's direction, will find her as a brainy type.

Sidney Chaplin, Charlie's sprig, is being tested for a lead role in "The Marriage Broker" at Fox. . . . The Ritz Brothers, who could do it live and for big money, are insisting on films for their TV series.

NO, NO, DAUGHTER
Only the disapproval of Barbara Lawrence's mother is preventing the elopement of the blonde beauty and amateur baseball whiz Johnny Murphy.

They're telling about the movie exhibitor, faced with declining box-office receipts, who advertised a million-dollar film spectacle with: "FIRST TIME AT POPULAR CRISIS."

Short Takes: Shelly Winters' father, a former tailor, is now her personal manager. . . . Paramount has two endings for "Sister Carrie"—one with Laurence Olivier committing suicide, as per the novel, the other with a happy fade-out. Preview audiences will determine which will be used. . . . Joan Crawford is back to Greg Bautzer. . . . Ronald and Benita Colman are shopping for a Broadway play.

Aly Khan will have his leg, broken last year, reset at the U. S. Whether Rita resets his heart is a moot question. . . . Luxury note: Elizabeth Taylor's charm bracelet is all diamonds.

Jack Paar says he's writing a tome titled, "Some of My Best Friends Are Enemies." Fortune teller to Eve Arden: "Bad news, dear, you have a big future in television."

Texas is the largest sheep raising state of the United States.

Qualities of a Good Journalist Include Honesty, Sincerity and Reverence for the Truth
(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The Rt. Rev. John S. Middleton, a Catholic priest who is secretary of education of the diocese of New York, recently propounded an ancient but neglected principle of journalism.

"God does not need our lies," he said, "and man is never helped by our falsehoods. Some of the qualities of a good journalist are habitual reverence for truth, sincerity in the search for truth, honesty in the expression of truth and candor in the acknowledgment of our errors. The Christian journalist's love of truth will move him to examine it with a fair mind and correct technique. Good will not replace good technique any more than good technique can replace honest appraisal of the facts. Our times have been described as 'the age of the great lie'."

I cite this criticism in reply to a criticism of my work by Alexander F. Jones, the executive editor of the Syracuse-Herald-Journal. Mr. Jones was a friend from 1919 until he recently exercised his right to repudiate that old friendship with a hateful personal attack in that paper. In that criticism, Mr. Jones wrote that I had hurled "the cheapest kind of invective at a woman—Eleanor Roosevelt."

Now what is the truth in this situation? Many times I have heard Mr. Jones speak of Mrs. Roosevelt with contempt. He had confidence in my reporting and praised my work during a long time when he was an editor of the Washington Post which subscribed to these dispatches. It was the "policy" of that paper, however, to pretend that it was unethical journalism to tell the truth about the conduct of this very influential female politician.

If the truth reveals serious evil, is invective inappropriate? My dictionary says, in brief, that invective is "harsh, censorious or denunciatory expression." But, assuming that my charges against Mrs. Roosevelt have been true—and none of them ever has been denied—were her acts trivial errors which did not justify invective? And, may I please have the benefit of a rule frankly stated which throws before a female politician a shield to guard from fair appraisal misconduct which would call down upon a male politician fierce expressions of contempt? No informed person can honestly deny that she has been for about 18 years the most influential female politician in the United States and much of that time the most influential female politician in the world.

I say her influence has been bad. Mr. Jones has often agreed with me that it was bad. What have I said against her conduct? The latest condemnation, in a series of criticisms extending over some years, was an expose of her wanton lies against Herbert Hoover and General Douglas MacArthur, her natural political prey, in her published discussion of the rout of the bonus rioters in 1932. Her writing on this subject was, indeed, invective. And her abuse of Mr. Hoover included even a sneering reference to his religious faith, implying that because he was a Quaker, he must, of course, be a coward. As to MacArthur she sought no basis for her charge of cowardice in any religious factor.

These were her words: "I shall never forget my feeling of horror when I realized that the army had actually been ordered to fire on the veterans." This was a rank, outright lie. She had no such feeling of horror over any such realization because she had no such realization. She faked up that lie, and the pretense of horror necessarily was a fake too.

Continuing, she wrote: "This one incident shows what fear can make people do. Mr. Hoover was a Quaker; and General MacArthur, his chief of staff, must have known how many veterans would resent the order and never forget it. Yet they dared do nothing else in the face of a situation which frightened them." This was a deliberate lie against both men and she unconsciously revealed her own base morals in weighing whether the veterans would resent or forget.

When the soldiers are ordered to restore the authority of law, government in civil commotion it is the rioters who are in the wrong. She certainly should know that. To a law-abiding person it would make no difference how the rioters felt about it. A decent officer would even hope the criminal rioters would long remember the lesson taught by the loyal soldiers. Whoever challenges the lawful authority of our government by violence deserves to be shot if the government forces find it necessary to shoot.

The terrible lie, the great lie, was the lie accusing Hoover and MacArthur of ordering the troops to fire. The charge of cowardice was equally false and bad. Later, Pat Hurley, who was secretary of war at the time and issued the order which this mendacious old woman distorted and falsely attributed to Hoover, compelled her to alter her text in the book version. But she still clung to her pretense of horror. Now she had been horrified because the army had been ordered to "evict" the bums from their jungle on the Anacostia flats. But now she put in a softening phrase. Hoover "abhorred violence" because he was a Quaker and the line about their fright in that situation was taken out. Yet she never apologized and the question is whether this shameless falsification of history is a case for honest invective. Not long ago in New York, we sentenced a woman to death for treason. Her sex made no difference. God only knows what harm this Roosevelt woman has wrought on the morals of millions by her scandalous conduct which has been suppressed by most of our journalism.

But, as Monsignor Middleton said, "God does not need our lies," including this old woman's, "and man is never helped by our falsehoods."

When the soldiers are ordered to restore the authority of law, government in civil commotion it is the rioters who are in the wrong. She certainly should know that. To a law-abiding person it would make no difference how the rioters felt about it. A decent officer would even hope the criminal rioters would long remember the lesson taught by the loyal soldiers. The Doctor Says:
Exercise Caution to Avoid Hazards of Summer Sun

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Summer in the Northern Hemisphere is accompanied by a few health hazards which are absent at other times of the year or which are at least much less important. The sun is stronger, the temperature is warmer, and more people spend longer hours out of doors working or amusing themselves.

The most important added risk of hot weather comes from the sun itself—sunburn, sunstroke, and heat exhaustion. Although our greatest natural friend, the sun should be treated with respect since it can be a terrible enemy as well. On the good side sunshine acts on the skin to form vitamin D, a substance which is necessary to prevent rickets in children, and helps to maintain good health. But on the bad side, too much sun burns and damages the skin; in deed skin cancer is more common among those who are heavily exposed to the sun for years on end.

The skin has a remarkable ability to adjust to the sun if it has time. The process of adjustment is called tanning and is the result of gradual deposits in the skin of pigment which protects against burning. But this takes time and consequently exposure to the sun should be bit by bit, thus avoiding burning which is painful as well as risky. During the tanning stage lotions or ointments may help, especially those which filter some of the burning rays.

MANY HAZARDS
The human body does not adjust so well to the hazards of sunstroke or heat exhaustion. These are the result of too much sun or heat on the brain or other parts of the nervous system. Some can be serious and may even cause death. Undue exposure to the too hot sun should therefore be avoided at all costs. If sunstroke or heat exhaustion (the latter being usually less serious) do occur they call for medical measures.

The purpose of drawing attention to this matter is that every year a lot of people get so enthusiastic about good warm sunshine that they overdo it and harm themselves more than they help. Just a little caution pays off in comfort, improved health, and avoidance of risk.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Q—When will the next total eclipse of the sun be visible in the United States?

A—The next to be seen from any part of the United States will occur on June 30, 1954. The path of totality will start in Nebraska, as the sun is rising. Then it travels northeasterly over parts of South Dakota, Lake Superior, province of Quebec, and across the Atlantic to Europe. Along this path, about a hundred miles wide, the sun will be completely hidden by the moon.

Q—Are portraits of living persons ever used on United States currency?

A—No, it's against the law.

Q—Is "Hands off" flying with automatic pilots now possible in helicopters?

A—The Navy announced recently that one of its major helicopter types had successfully met all needs for automatic flying at all altitudes.

Two Dixon Motorists Scheduled For Reckless Driving Hearings

Two Dixon motorists were scheduled to appear in county court at 1:30 p. m. today on reckless driving charges after being arrested by state police Tuesday night.

Mrs. Christina Dinges, Sublette, is in KSB hospital with a fractured nose and bruises sustained in an auto accident at 8:30 p. m. at Rt. 52 and the Eldena blacktop.

William R. Miller, 913 Center st., Dixon, is free on $500 bond pending his arraignment. According to officers Mrs. Dinges had stopped her car on the blacktop at the highway when Miller, proceeding south on Rt. 52, turned the corner and his auto skidded into the parked car.

Miller sustained bruises. He was arrested by State Officer Don Sachs. Damage to each car was estimated at $250.

Robert Creighton Webner, Dixon, a driver for Hey Brothers Ice Cream company, found out last night it is not advisable to pass cars in a no passing zone.

Western GOP Legislators Plan Halt of Tuesday-Thursday Club

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Western Republicans mapped plans today to try to put the house on a five-day work week in a drive for a summer recess.

They are out to break up what is known in house corridors as the "Tuesday to Thursday Club"—an informal arrangement which permits eastern members to spend long weekends at home.

Seven western Republicans have been designated to try to arrange with the house leadership a more strenuous legislative program in the hope that it will be possible to take a summer recess.

They are Reps. Hoeven of Iowa, Allen of California, Norblad of Oregon, Tollefson of Washington, O'Hara of Minnesota, Chenoweth of Colorado and Davis of Wisconsin.

The westerners believe it would be fairer for the house, to work five days weekly, clean up its work and permit all members to go home for a month or so in mid-summer. Although congress has been in session more than five months, official records show that up to June 1 the house and the senate had each been in session only 80 days and that only 43 general bills had been enacted into law.

Up to June 1, a total of 6,766 bills and resolutions had been introduced in both chambers, but fewer than 1,000 of them had been acted on by committees.

Police Recover $100,000 Bag Of Stolen Gems

MONTREAL, (AP)—Police recovered $100,000 worth of jewels yesterday, the property of Hollywood Movie Director Archie L. Mayo's wife.

Police said the jewels were stolen while Mrs. Mayo was staying in a hotel here last Friday. Acting on a tip, officers found a luggage locker check in a box of chocolate almonds in the hotel room of a "foreign woman."

The locker was in a downtown bag terminal. Inside was a chamois bag containing the 14 pieces of jewelry including diamond earrings, two diamond and platinum bracelets and ruby clips.

The "foreign woman," authorities said, told them she found the bag of jewels on a chair in a hotel lobby. Chief of Detectives Wilfrid Bourdon said she was not under arrest.

Iran Slows Up In Oil Seizure

TEHRAN, Iran—(AP)—Iran slowed up today on seizure of the properties of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil company, but most newspapers here were criticizing the government for not speeding enforcement of its nationalization law.

With representatives of the British-owned company announced to come here for oil talks with Iranian officials, the government already exhibited a definite slowdown in the take-over measures it had vowed would be carried out early this week.

As a result, most of Iran's press blasted Premier Mohammed Mossadeq for not implementing the law at once.

Says Appeal Was the Sound Thing to Do

Critics Claim U. S. Risked UN Voting Margin

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson denied today there was any "appeasement" in United States support of last January's futile move by the United Nations for a cease fire in Korea.

Acheson told the senate's MacArthur inquiry that the State Department backed the move because "We thought that the sound thing to do was to vote in favor of this resolution."

The UN cease fire resolution sought to arrange an armistice and submit to "an appropriate body" of UN members the questions of the future of Formosa and China's representation in the United Nations.

Nothing came of the move because the Chinese Reds rejected the proposal.

Risked Defeat

Critics have contended the United States by endorsing this plan had risked a situation in which it would have been outvoted by a coalition of the Red Chinese, British and Russian representatives.

Members of the inquiry panel asked Acheson to relate the circumstances under which the Chinese Communists were invited last summer to take part in the UN talks regarding the Korean situation.

At that time Red China had not intervened in the Korean fighting.

Reads Telegram

Acheson read into the record a telegram which Red China's foreign minister sent last Aug. 24 to Russia's Jacob Malik, who was serving then as president of the UN security council.

The telegram, made public at the time, accused the United States of "a direct armed aggression against the territory of China and a total violation of the United Nations charter."

Acheson quoted the telegram as denouncing "the decision of the United States government to prevent with armed forces the liberation of Taiwan by the Chinese People's Republic (Red) army."

Amazing White Sox Still Winning

Trip Red Sox Again to Stay 3½ in Lead

Yankees Also Win In Surprising AL Pennant Scramble

(By The Associated Press)
So you still think the Chicago White Sox are morning glories? Well, ask the Red Sox. Boston stormed into Chicago last Sunday with the avowed purpose of pricking Chicago's bubble and putting the upstarts in their places. Hadn't the Red Sox just won 11 of their last 12 games?

And weren't they ready to use the White Sox as a stepping stone to first place?

The Bostonians' confidence increased when they won the opener of a five-game series. Then came the debacle. The White Sox beat them four in a row.

Victory Easy

Yesterday's amazingly easy 10-2 triumph over the power-packed pre-season flag favorites marked the sixth time Chicago has whipped Boston in seven games this season. The victory kept intact the White Sox' three and a half game lead over New York, conquerors of Cleveland yesterday 8-2.

This is the same Boston club that has been pasting the Pale Hose for 10, these many years. Since 1946, Boston had beaten Chicago 75 times. That's an average of 16 per year. The Red Sox will have to win 14 of their remaining 15 games with Chicago to maintain the pace.

If the world champion Yankees and the rest of the American league still "can't see" the hot Sox as a pennant threat, they should visit the nearest eye specialist.

Browns Stop A's

Elsewhere in the American league, the St. Louis Browns shelved the Philadelphia Athletics, 10-1, and Detroit shut out Washington, 4-0.

Ned Garver hurled a four-hitter against the A's for his eighth triumph—an amazing accomplishment considering the cellar-dwelling Browns have won only 14.

Gene Bearden pitched the Tiger shutout over his former Washington teammates.

Brooklyn's Dodgers eked out a 3-2 win over St. Louis to increase their National league lead over the Cards to four and a half games. It was the Brooks' fourth straight victory.

Sal Maglie registered his ninth straight victory as the New York Giants nipped the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2. Lefty Paul LaPalme, making his big league start, hurled Pittsburgh to an 8-0 triumph over the Boston Braves. Relief artist Jim Konstanty, making his first start since he lost the World Series opener last fall, lasted only five innings as the Chicago Cubs whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

Sox Have Innings

Two high scoring innings—the sixth and eighth—gave the White Sox all their runs as they handed Boston's Willard Nixon his first defeat. Rookie outfielder Jim Busby sparked a six-run eighth with a two-run homer. He also got a triple and a single. Randy Gumpert scattered eight hits for his fourth success against no defeats. The Sox now have won 18 of their last 20.

Dom DiMaggio got three of Boston's hits to stretch his consecutive hitting streak through 25 games.

Allie Reynolds smashed Cleveland's nine-game winning streak with a five-hitter for New York. Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown paced a 13-hit assault on loser Early Wynn with home runs.

Roy Campanella's double scored Carl Furillo from first in the ninth inning to break a 2-2 tie and win for Brooklyn.

Glants Snap Back

Blanked with one hit through six innings, the Giants snapped a scoreless pitching duel between Maglie and Cincinnati's Harry Perkowitz with two runs in the seventh. West Westrum and Willie Mays drove in the runs. Maglie scored what proved to be the winning run in the eighth.

Pittsburgh supported LaPalme's five-hit pitching with a 21-hit attack against Johnny Sain and three Boston relievers. The Pirates left 18 on the bases to tie a major league record first set by the 1905 Pittsburgh club and equaled by several others.

The Cubs got all their runs in the fourth off Koonstanty, who went down to his fifth defeat. A triple by Dee Fondy, doubles by Smokey Burgess and Hank Sauer and Andy Pafko's single furnished the tallies.

Steve O'Neill Concedes Faint Praise to Red Hot White Sox

CHICAGO—(AP)—Manager Steve O'Neill, whose Boston Red Sox were chased out of town with four straight licks in a five-game series, thinks the White Sox upsurge is a great thing for baseball.

That was the nicest praise the veteran American league skipper could muster after watching the first-place Chicago wrecking crew slam 14 of his pitchers for 49 hits and 29 runs during the four-game winning span.

The Red Sox, who blew into Chicago with 11 wins in their last 12 starts, were highly favored for the pennant in pre-season reckoning and O'Neill certainly isn't ready to concede the bunting to any other club at this early stage.

He, like other managers whose teams have been chastised by the frisky Comiskey's, is amazed but not perturbed, especially.

He views the White Sox, who have notched 24 victories in their last 28 starts to sail 3½ games ahead in the race, as a pennant possibility rather than a probability.

"The White Sox are playing great ball and their unpredicted rise to the top has been a great thing for baseball generally," observed the affable O'Neill before he led the humiliated gold-plated Sox into Detroit today. "Whereas you had to figure on New York, Boston, Cleveland and Detroit in the pennant drive, now you've got to figure the White Sox. The race has become thicker and the interest stronger."

While conceding that Chicago has tremendous speed, O'Neill is inclined to believe the team is "way over its head in hitting."

"They've got four players in the first 10 hitters of the league and the team average is .295," he said. "I figure the team that can average .285 has a fine chance for the pennant (Boston's is .272)."

"I doubt if the White Sox can keep up that hot pace. Jim Busby and Nellie Fox just don't figure to hit as good as they have been. That Minoso, however, looks like a hitter."

Busby, acting as if he had overheard O'Neill's appraisal, yesterday hammered his first homer of the season, a triple and a single in four trips to boost his clip to .344. Fox collected two singles in four trips to take over the league batting lead with .364.

Minnie Minoso was .360, Eddie Robinson .340 and Chico Carrasquel .303.

The Pale Hose, who open a two-game stand with Washington today before facing the second-place Yankees in four week-end engagements, closed out with Boston yesterday with a 10-2 dazzler.

2 More U. S. Marks Into Record Books

LONDON — (AP) — Two more United States track marks go into the books as world records.

The International Amateur Athletic federation announced yesterday Mel Patton's 20.2 seconds for 220 yards and Bob Mathias' 8.042 points in the decathlon have been recognized as top performances.

Patton set his dash mark May 7, 1949 at Los Angeles, slicing one tenth of a second from the record made by Jesse Owens in 1935.

Mathias, Olympic decathlon champ, rolled up his 8,042 points at Tulare, Calif., last June 29-30. The old mark was 7,900 points by America's Glenn Morris in the 1936 Olympics.

Also recognized was a record of 51.9 seconds in the 440-yard hurdles by Italy's A. Filippini, who set the mark last Oct. 8 at Milan. The old mark of 52.2 was shared by Dick Ault of Missouri and Roy Cochran of Indiana.

Louis, Savold To Bring Ring TV to Theatre

NEW YORK—(AP)—Mike Jacob's dream of a $10,000,000 gate for a heavyweight championship fight may not be too far away, after all.

Four big theater corporations—Fabian, Loew's, RKO and United Paramount, announced plans last night to televise next Wednesday's Joe Louis-Lee Savold bout on a vast network of movie screens.

"This will mark the historical first network of theater television," said Nathan L. Halpern, spokesman for the theater companies.

May Solve Dilemma
James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing club, said the enterprise promises to solve the present television dilemma of affecting the gate.

Norris took over the reins of bigtime boxing from Jacobs, who, before illness forced his retirement, foresaw millions of fans swarming into movie houses and paying for the privilege of watching his gladiators through this new and marvelous medium.

The Louis-Savold bout at the Polo Grounds, matching the former heavyweight champion with the British-recognized king of the heavies, will not be televised generally. That is, there's no way of getting it on your parlor set.

To Relay Fight
But under the arrangement of the theater groups, the fight will be relayed by coaxial cable direct from cameras at the ringside to large screens in special cities, outside the New York area.

Cities already in the network are Washington, Baltimore, Albany, Cleveland, and Chicago. Other theaters and cities will be added before fight time, Halpern announced.

Patrons will pay admission just as they do for an ordinary show—probably around $1.50. Financial arrangements haven't been disclosed.

Thirteen theaters outside New York have the equipment necessary for theater television. The average seating capacity is 2,000, so the revenue for this particular fight may amount to no more than $50,000.

But future possibilities appear limitless.

Grid Future Bright
College football's special television committee, toying with the same idea, has been assured by theater companies that 150 movie houses will be ready for the job by fall. It's reasonable to assume there will be thousands of such theaters in the next few years, collecting fares from millions of spectators.

Millions saw heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles whip Joey Maxim a few days ago in Chicago. Bpt they saw it free while relaxing in their living rooms or neighborhood bars. The TV people paid $100,000 for the rights. Only 7,226 attended, paying a gross of $77,319.22.

The rating systems say as many as 30,000,000 people witness the big championship fights on television. Multiply that by a huck and a half fee and you get an idea of what Jacobs, the old master of the Twentieth Century Sporting club was dreaming about.

Reynolds Wire In Twilight Game
Reynolds Wire baseball team meets Stillman Valley in a twilight game today (Wednesday) at 6 p. m.

Bob Gartner is expected to start for Dixon in the game at Reynolds field.

We went a skeptic and came back... well, almost converted. To see the White Sox, the new 1951 White Sox, that is, for the first time this season.
WELL AWARE OF the pitfalls that await the critic who makes a snap judgment after seeing a team play only once, we refuse to wax hysterical over the possibilities of the Sox staying on top of the heap this season. Sure they looked great to us Tuesday while pouring it on the Red Sox, 10 to 2. But will they look as great in September as they have in June? Will they still be sending sportswriters to the dictionaries to look up new adjectives when the dog-days of August roll around?

Those are the questions Chicago sports fans are asking these days. And make no mistake about it, Chicago is talking about this "wonder" team. Chicago's bartenders, cab drivers, waitresses, clerks and commuters seemingly have nothing else on their minds. They all wonder how the Sox are going to hold up through the "long haul," through the tough days of late summer and early autumn.

NOW WE REFUSE to climb out on the limb with answers to these questions, but in the sixth inning of Tuesday's game we think we did see the reason why the Sox are currently on top of the standings. In that inning they scored four runs on four hits. Two of these hits were bunts and a third... the longest... was a single to center field by the pitcher, Randy Gumpert. And two walks also forced in a pair of runs in this inning.

In other words, the Chicago White Sox are currently playing in a kind of baseball dream in which they can do no wrong. Although the opposition knows they have speed, their bunts are falling safe, their pitchers are hitting like outfielders and the opposition is doing its part by taking an occasional fall on its face.

AND THROUGH IT ALL, Paul Richards, the Sphinx himself, stands at third base out-maneuvering his foes in a manner that would suggest he is aided by some divine providence not available to mere mortals.

Richards installed himself at third after the weekend traffic got snarled under the direction of his former teammate. The same thing happened under the boss-man Tuesday, but perhaps it can be blamed on the linguistic difficulties which the Sox have had to overcome this season.

The situation in question occurred in the sixth inning at the time of Gumpert's hit. The bases were loaded, with Dillinger on third, Busby on second and Chico Carrasquel on first. Dillinger and Busby scored easily when Gumpert drilled his long single to right-center field.

AND CARRASQUEL ALSO was so determined to score that he breezed right by Manager Richards' "hold-up" signal at third base. He was out from here to Caracas on the play at the plate, giving some of the experts a chance to wonder if base-running signals are the same in Spanish as they are in English.

We don't know if Richards can speak Spanish or not, but some very earnest motions were passed between him and El Chico two innings later when Carrasquel spent some time on third base while said Steve O'Neill was waiting as another of his relief pitchers made the long trek in from the Comiskey park bullpen.

Our excuse for slipping into Comiskey park on a working day was the meeting of sports editors of Illinois Associated Press member newspapers held in the AP's Chicago office. After a two-hour business meeting designed to give the readers better coverage of sports, the sports-writing fraternity adjourned to a string of front-row box seats in Comiskey park. These seats were on the third-base line, slightly to the outfield side of Minny Minoso, who operated impressively at third for the White Sox, until Richards switched him to left field after the sixth of his patented bold strokes of strategy in the big sixth inning.

HERE ARE A FEW other mental notes we took during the day's proceedings:

Ted Williams, the Boston outfielder, might bat .500 if he could find a way to beat the "Williams shift" so many teams employ against him. Tuesday he hit four balls with "baso hit" tagged on each one. But the box score gives him credit for one hit for the day. Twice he was thrown out by Carrasquel on drives right through the box, and another, time second baseman Nellie Fox threw him out at first from some 100 feet in right field where he was in perfect position to field a vicious liner on the first bounce.

MOST PITIFUL sight of the day: A group of blind veterans from Hines hospital moving through the pass gate at Comiskey park to "see" the game.

One member of the sports editors' group didn't make the meeting. He was Jack Frowell, Champaign News-Gazette scribe, who was lucky to escape with a broken kneecap in a serious auto accident on his way to the meeting. The car he was driving collided with a school bus near Homewood. His wife, Nancy, suffered scalp lacerations.

WHILE WE ENJOYED the baseball game (with hot-dogs), we hated to miss the invitation extended by Paul Potts to attend the party he gave for his Manhattan Cafe bowling team Tuesday night.

Friday Shultz, team member and an expert on fried chicken as well as strikes and spares, says he has never sampled a better platter-full than that prepared by Ken Miller for the bowling supper. Those who attended were Bill Nixon, Ed Worley and Hank Chamness, team members; Classic league officers Hank Henry, Choppy Rosbrook, Bus Carlson and Sammy Bellows; and Norm Thomas and Cliff Coughlin, gourmets.

Claims Link Between May and Police in Gambling Payoffs

CHICAGO (AP)—State's Attorney John S. Boyle says new information linking George S. May and his Tam O'Shanter country club gambling operations with alleged police payoffs will be presented to the July grand jury. Boyle made the announcement yesterday as the senate crime investigating committee in Washington voted to recommend contempt of congress charges against May and two others. They are Rocco Fischetti and Murray L. (the Camel) Humphreys, reputed leaders of Chicago's Capone gang. Chairman O'Connor (D-Md) said May, at a May 28 closed meeting of the crime committee, balked at giving information on the Tam O'Shanter club near Chicago.

Seek Tip-Off System

Boyle said he will ask George S. Robinson, counsel for the crime investigating committee, to submit to him secret committee files. These include an alleged memo of conversations between May and Robinson which contains details of a tipoff system whereby the club was informed of impending police raids. Boyle said indictments charging bribery and conspiracy to violate the gambling laws will be sought against May, Eddie Vogel, reputed slot machine syndicate manager, one or more sheriff's police, and a man named "Julius" who is a collector for the syndicate.

Edmund Grant, an assistant state's attorney, returned from Washington yesterday after examining May's testimony before the senate crime investigating committee.

To Appear, Thursday

Boyle said Grant in preparation of the July inquiry has arranged to obtain a complete copy of Robinson's memorandum of his conversation with May. May and two other Tam O'Shanter officials are slated to appear before Circuit Judge Julius Miner Thursday for sentence following conviction Monday on contempt charges. These grew out of refusal to produce the club's books and records before the grand jury. Slot machines were seized in a raid on the club last July 4.

Udini & Houdini

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (AP)—Albert Udini made like magician Harry Houdini last night—up to a point. He put on a pair of handcuffs. His friends made sure they were on securely.

Then Udini went into some hocus pocus. The handcuffs stayed on. He pulled. He wriggled. He strained. They didn't budge. Finally, he went to a firehouse and had them cut off with a hacksaw.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Mow Limb Down
